

Experiencing Service-Learning

By Robert Kronick, Robert Cunningham, Michele Gourley

University of Tennessee Press. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Experiencing Service-Learning, Robert Kronick, Robert Cunningham, Michele Gourley, A unique resource for students and professors alike, this book reveals the important practical, educational, and emotional benefits provided by college programs that allow students to help others through service work in inner-city classrooms, clinics, and other challenging environments. Filled with vivid first-person reflections by students, "Experiencing Service-Learning" emphasizes learning by doing, getting into the field, sharing what one sees with colleagues, and interpreting what one learns. As the authors make clear, service-learning is not a spectator sport. It takes students away from the routines and comfort zones of lecture, test, term paper, exam and puts them into the world. Service-learning requires them to engage actively with cultures that may be unfamiliar to them and to be introspective about their successes and their mistakes. At the same time, it demands of their instructors something other than Power-Point slides or an eloquently delivered lecture, as no teacher can predict in advance the questions their students experiences will raise. In service-learning, students and teacher must act together as a team of motivators, problem solvers, and change agents. While most of its personal vignettes come...
